1. According to the treaties between the Soviet Union and East Germany, the metallurgical products to be imported under the supplementary agreement will be delivered on or before 31 December 1953 f.o.b. place of origin. These materials will not reach their destinations in East Germany until January ... or the first half of February 1954.
2. Since the 1953 quotas lapse on 31 December 1953, the State Committee for Material Procurement is charged with the duty of allotting the quantities arriving after that date to the quota-bearers in the form of special quotas (M 20) on the basis of the previous amounts received by the individual bearers. It will not be possible to utilize these supplementary imports to make up deficits in production during the first quarter of 1954.
